Senior Vice President, Enterprise Clinical Strategy and Quality

Mona Siddiqui, MD, MPH, MSE is Senior Vice President for Clinical Operations for Humana's Home Solutions business where she is leading the implementation of multiple initiatives to improve outcomes, drive efficiency and expand to new service lines. For three years prior to this, she was Senior Vice President for Enterprise Clinical Strategy and Quality across the Insurance segment where she led the development and management of Humana's enterprise clinical strategy and provided direction for clinical quality in an effort to drive continued improvements in health outcomes for patients.

Dr. Siddiqui most recently served at the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services as the Department's inaugural Chief Data Officer. In that role, she led the effort to connect the nation's health care data through the build-out of an enterprise wide data-sharing technology platform, governance structure and advanced the Department's Artificial Intelligence strategy. Previously, Dr. Siddiqui served at the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation implementing new payment models and technology enabled solutions. She has also served with the White House Social and Behavioral Sciences Team ("nudge" unit) during the Obama administration working with ONC, CMS, FDA, VA and DHA on operationalizing insights from behavioral economics in large scale government programs to improve efficiency and effectiveness. Prior to her work in the federal government, Dr. Siddiqui was at the Johns Hopkins University Health System where she was focused on driving value based care initiatives.

Dr. Siddiqui holds a medical degree from the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, a master's degree in Quantitative Methods from the Harvard School of Public Health, and a degree in Management and Engineering from Stanford University. She completed her undergraduate work in neuroscience and philosophy from the University of Maryland where she graduated summa cum laude and the class Valedictorian.
