

2021 VIRTUAL ANNUAL MEETING ATTENDEE INFORMATION

OCTOBER 29–30, 2021 WITH PRE-CONFERENCE SESSIONS OCT. 28

Home-Based Medical Care: Leadership Across the Landscape

Join hundreds of your home care medicine colleagues, AAHCM board members, and industry leaders at the AAHCM 2021 Virtual Annual Meeting. Our second all-virtual event will be even bigger and more immersive than the first, with opportunities for career growth, trend spotting, and celebrating the year's achievements.

Explore innovative models of care, learn evidence-based best practices, discover new strategies to improve care coordination through interdisciplinary care, and acquire the skill set to implement rapid performance improvement at this year's conference.

The Annual Meeting and pre-conference sessions provide valuable education, insights, and networking opportunities for Physicians, Nurse Practitioners, Physician Assistants, Nurses, Social Workers, Related Professionals, Administrators, and Office Managers. You don't have to be an AAHCM member to attend, but members do receive a discounted registration rate!

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Opening Keynote

Mark McClellan, MD, PhD

Director, Duke-Robert J. Margolis, MD Center for Health Policy and Robert J. Margolis, MD Professor of Business, Medicine, and Policy, Duke University

Dr. Mark McClellan is a physician-economist who focuses on quality and value in health care including payment reform, real-world evidence, and more effective drug and device innovation. Dr. McClellan is at the center of the nation's efforts to combat the pandemic and the author of a roadmap that details the steps needed for a comprehensive COVID-19 response and safe reopening of our country. He is former administrator of the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services and former commissioner of the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, where he developed and implemented major reforms in health policy. Dr. McClellan is an independent director on the boards of Johnson & Johnson, Cigna, Alignment Healthcare, and PrognomIQ; co-chairs the Guiding Committee for the Health Care Payment Learning and Action Network; and serves as an advisor for Arsenal Capital Group, Blackstone Life Sciences, and MITRE.

Closing Keynote

Sherita Hill Golden, MD, MHS

Hugh P. McCormick Family Professor of Endocrinology and Metabolism and Vice President and Chief Diversity Officer for Johns Hopkins Medicine

Dr. Sherita Hill Golden holds joint appointments in the Welch Center for Prevention, Epidemiology, and Clinical Research, in the Department of Epidemiology at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health, and in the Armstrong Institute for Patient Safety and Quality. An internationally recognized physician-scientist and member of the American Society of Clinical Investigation and American Association of Physicians, Dr. Golden's research has used the tools of epidemiology and health services research to identify biological and systems contributors to disparities in type 2 diabetes and its outcomes. In order to more directly address the root causes of health inequities identified through her research, Dr. Golden has used her executive leadership roles to develop systems, community, and policy interventions. In her current role as Vice President and Chief Diversity Officer for Johns Hopkins Medicine, she oversees diversity, inclusion, and health equity strategy and operations for the School of Medicine and Johns Hopkins Health System.

What's Happening, What's Next

With more than 125 Full and Affiliate Members, the Hospital at Home Users Group is a dynamic and growing community of hospital at home programs throughout the United States and Canada. Many of our members are participating in the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) Acute Hospital Care at Home program, either expanding or starting new hospital at home initiatives.

The 2021 Hospital at Home Users Group Annual Meeting—What's Happening, What's Next—comes amid a period of transformational growth for hospital at home programs across the country. Spurred by the CMS waiver, health systems and hospitals are exploring how acute care for a wide range of patients and diagnoses can be delivered safely and effectively at home. Looking beyond the public health emergency, all hospital at home programs must consider how to both improve their patient care and respond to an uncertain future.

The Annual Meeting consists of morning and afternoon sessions, featuring presentations from experts in delivering high quality acute care in older people's homes. Additionally, it includes a poster session, innovation presentations, awards, results from a hospital at home photo contest, and even some hospital at home trivia.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

By the end of the pre-conference, participants will:

- Have a clear understanding of recent developments in the hospital at home movement and the Hospital at Home Users Group
- Develop a clear grasp of the current state and future prospects of the hospital at home model and its implementation in diverse settings
- Learn about innovations in hospital at home practice across the US and Canada

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Lee A. Fleisher, MD, Chief Medical Officer & Director of the Center for Clinical Standards & Quality, Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services; Professor of Anesthesiology & Critical Care, Perelman School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania
